Review: Pets allowed in the superstore, keep all pet lovers to bring those to have a walk making noisy barking and pet smell so horribly. Most pet lovers with dog leash keep us eyes to be aware of little kids from their pet attack and look around any piss or waste on the super center corridor. Anyway, the Superstore itself is so big with 4 storeys and comtemporary lifestlye design to mederate the interior decor. Food shops are not many and quite limited mostly in the outdoor yard zone but nice ambience

Review: New mall open for the people who live in the suburbs specifically in Rajapruek area. Now with the latest hype and ongoing road construction, traffic around the mall is quite heavy so it's better to avoid the rush hour if you want to visit the mall. Lots of new shops and novelty restaurants for you to choose from. Note that this mall is pet friendly meaning you can bring your pets to stroll around the mall. There is also the running tracks for joggers and soon SkyRise adventure for adventure seekers on the top floor.

Review: Central WestVille strikes a familiar chord with the cozy and inviting atmosphere reminiscent of Central Eastville, but it stands out with its own unique charm. This pet-friendly haven is a paradise for pet lovers, offering well-designed indoor and outdoor spaces that cater to our furry friends. One of the highlights is its commitment to creating a nature-infused environment, complete with an artificial waterfall and a grand staircase at the heart of the building, adorned with lush greenery, making it a picturesque spot for visitors. The variety of dining options and street shops adds to the appeal, ensuring there's something for every palate and preference. The convenience of having a supermarket on-site cannot be overstated, making it a one-stop destination for shopping and leisure. However, it's not without its drawbacks. The traffic congestion around the area, exacerbated by ongoing road construction, can be a significant deterrent. Additionally, the limited parking availability further complicates accessibility. The lack of public transportation options also poses a challenge for those relying on such services. In essence, while Central WestVille offers a delightful experience with its pet-friendly policies and connection to nature, visitors should be prepared for potential traffic and parking woes. Review: I've arrived. @CentralWestVille ■ Shopping mall near home, near work. Open for 3 weeks. It's just now time to bring the family here for the first time. It's nothing. Wait for the paint to dry and the smell of the paint to fade first. ■ Actually, I've been private since the day the mall opened. The first day there was a lot of traffic jams and a million chickens. Good thing I'm in this area so I can walk here. However, there were still a lot of people. The first day there was still a lot of dust. The smell of the paint was very strong. So I'm waiting here. Then I brought my family for a walk. Once came on Sunday. There are a lot of people, which is normal. But you can still find parking. My daughter likes it. I like semi-outdoor malls. There are corners to play in, something a little bit adventurous, like rock climbing, swings, jumping on ropes, things like that. I'm asking Mamie to come play with go-karts for the kids. They're available for driving on the 4th floor. There are many beautiful corners to take photos, but today I was hungry and didn't take many photos. She wants to take the train. It's the final round at 8:30 p.m. I'll make it for you. The driver gave me one more round as well. They have 2 playgrounds, one in front of the SAEMAEUL store on the 3rd floor. This is a big spot. There's a merry-go-round, jumping on ropes, and rock climbing. But the wooden dice pit has already taken out the dice. I wonder if it will disappear often. ■ If the 2nd floor is a swing, rock climbing, sand pit, jumping rope on a tree. It's on the front side, near the 425 shop. The train section is on the 3rd floor. Still open for free admission. No receipt required. The restaurant zone is in the semi outdoor zone on the 1st and 3rd floors and inside the mall with air conditioning on the 1st floor. There are a lot of shops, you can't sort them all. Let's come together. It is a pet friendly department store. There may be some barking and whining mixed in with people's voices. There was a different kind of lively atmosphere. But if anyone is afraid of dogs, afraid of cats, afraid of barking, easily frightened, or allergic to fur. I recommend avoiding it first. Review: There aren't many shops in this central location, but that might be because they just opened. Even though there aren't many, there are a lot of good quality items. It's fun to shop. Some department stores have a lot of items, but there isn't anything worth buying. This place is beautifully decorated. It is probably the most beautiful in this area because the malls in this area are quite old. Personally, I like walking to this mall the most in this area. The cinema has a laser system and the ticket prices are not too expensive too, worth it. But I would like to complain a little about the bathrooms and traffic.

Because the bathroom has very few service channels. There are few sinks, causing many people to wait in line to use the bathroom. Plus the traffic is very congested almost all day. Traveling is difficult. Plus, traffic inside the mall doesn't have many road signs or parking lots. The road is narrow, making it difficult to travel. Review: Take your children to music lessons here every week. Play at playspace and ended up eating at the food court every week. The children's menu always eats at the same restaurant. It's a chicken rice shop. Today I met a salesperson who made me feel not impressed at all. It's a female employee who wears glasses. We ordered a plate of chicken rice, no vegetables at all. But the employee asked in a curt tone and words. "Do you want the movie?" His voice was firm. He didn't have any legs. He was confused as to whether it was this or the salesperson. I'd like to cancel the order. I don't know if the store hired its own employees or if the employees were affiliated with the department store. or trained to serve customers like friends So I slammed the sound back to let people know that when the voice is harsh, with blunt words Like being dissatisfied with the listener, how do you feel? Finished this course I probably won't apply again. There are many other places. Walking around the mall, there are still employees with manners like this. The market vendors said it much better than this. Because the market maintains the standards of products and services. If anyone is not good, they will give a warning and they will still do it, that is, they will be fired. Take your children to music lessons here every week. Review: During this time, the road leading in front of the bridge is under construction, causing heavy traffic jams, having to fight to squeeze in before going up the bridge, from many lanes to only 2 lanes. When going down the bridge, you have to keep to the left to enter in parallel, and you have to encounter another straight line of cars. Just one lens If this point can be resolved, it will be very good. Or you can use Suan Phak Road to enter from the back. But I don't recommend it for people who have never been there because it's so confusing and you'll probably get lost. Review: very angry Was invited to leave the staff cafeteria I came to see the place. Because you might come and apply for a job here. But came a little early, arriving around 9:30 a.m. I might apply for a job at Top Care. As far as I know, Top opens in the morning before 10 a.m. I used to work at Central Westgate used to sit in the employee cafeteria. I've never seen anyone chased like this. I'm sitting here About half an hour I'm about to leave. This female employee came and asked me where I was from. I was wearing a white shirt. Not wearing a black shirt I replied that I would come to top one day and at least I intended to become a customer. Do the employees here talk to customers like this? Please leave first. Very rude I did not cause any trouble. Just wear a white shirt. Not wearing a black shirt Didn't eat either. Because his mother hasn't finished preparing yet. So I changed my mind. I won't pay a single baht here. This female employee wearing a red dress was really rude. Whether it's an employee or a customer, they don't see that it's a matter of life and death that they have to chase each other like pigs and dogs like this. Are you talking too much? very angry Was invited to leave the staff cafeteria I came to see the place. Because you might come and apply for a job here. ...More

Review: While being created This mall creates serious traffic problems on Ratchaphruek Road. Because the mall has closed both lanes of the road (not sure if it's a U-turn bridge or not), making it even more of a bottleneck.People using Ratchapruek Road have to endure the suffering of enormous traffic jams. It had to be after 10:00 p.m. for the traffic to disappear (if you don't believe it, try zooming in on Google Maps and see that it's dark red all the time in front of the mall). This is one example of a capitalist who doesn't care about the people who creates businesses without caring about other people's suffering. Review: This mall is great for families with young children. There is a small playground in front of B2S. For older children, there is an adventure rope climbing activity. Price for students is 390 baht, adults 490 baht on the 3rd floor. For families with pets, you can bring your little ones for a walk. But it must be in the cart. The department store has a wheelchair rental service. The service point is near the Muji store. Follow the signs for the restrooms and you'll find it. And in the outside zone there is a tissue dispenser. There are bags to collect poop for the little ones along with trash cans available at several points. On the 3rd floor, on the rooftop, there is a small field for the little ones to run around in. There are many restaurants available. Various types. It's not right at all to choose. Food ville has outside seating. For families with pets already in strollers. You can go inside and buy food and then sit and eat in this area. This Pet'N Me branch is very big. located outside. Walk to the front of the store. This mall is great for families with young children. There is a small playground in front of B2S. ...More
